TEACHER OF ENGLISH

Bonitas Multi-Academy Trust is a company limited by guarantee registered in England and Wales, registration number 07698406, and is an exempt charity

Dear Colleague

Thank you for your interest in the post of Teacher of English at Ranelagh School. In this letter, I aim to provide you with some further insight into our school and our priorities.

Our school has an excellent reputation at local and national level. The last inspection by Ofsted in 2024 judged us to be outstanding in all areas. This was our fifth outstanding report and, whilst we are very proud of this achievement, we are in no way complacent.

In addition to excellence in terms of academic outcomes, our purpose is to provide a supportive, stimulating and secure environment in which young people can thrive. As such, we seek to employ inspirational and energetic staff, committed to the school's ethos. In return, we aim to provide opportunities for continuing professional growth and development for all staff, beginning with a well-established induction programme.

Given that we spend such a significant proportion of our time in the workplace, it is important to take pride and pleasure in what we do here. Teaching and non-teaching staff collaborate well. They are mindful of one another's well-being and there is a strong sense of collective purpose.

If you are interested in learning more about the role, then please do contact me. If you would like to apply, please submit your application using the form available on our website:

We look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely,

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Structure and Staffing

The English department currently consists of five full-time colleagues and two part-time teachers. Curriculum responsibilities are shared, giving all colleagues the opportunity to work collaboratively and share good practice.

Facilities and Resources

The department's accommodation consists of six teaching classrooms. The department has easy access to many other facilities in the school such as the reprographics centre, computer rooms and audio-visual equipment. All students in year 7, 8 and 9 have access to the library once a fortnight to carry out reading and library skills projects, as well as a computer-based vocabulary lesson using the Bedrock program.

Curriculum

Key Stage 3:

Year 7-9 are taught within mixed ability groups. The department has designed a programme of study which contains a range of pre and post 1900 novels, plays and poems. Writing and literacy opportunities are taught within units of work and children are assessed for reading, writing and speaking and listening at the end of each term. There is an emphasis on engagement and inspiration through active learning with personalised tasks leading to greater individual independence. This is in line with the Ranelagh Student Learner Profile.

Key Stage 4:

All students are taught within mixed ability groups and all students study both English Language and Literature using the WJEC (Eduqas) Syllabus. The programme of study at Key Stage 4 enables students to develop reading and writing skills that will prepare them for their examinations at the end of Year 11. Students are regularly assessed throughout the course to check progress.

Key Stage 5:

At A Level, students study OCR English Language or Literature with typical class sizes consisting of 7-12 students. Students are taught how to critically analyse texts through teacher-led discussions and collaborative group work. Students are encouraged to work independently and to invest time engaging with wider reading.

Visits

The department runs theatre visits to enhance the teaching of set plays and students in Year 12 and 13 have opportunities to attend lectures when possible. At Key Stage 3, The Globe Players come into school to perform 'A Christmas Carol' to year 7 and 'Macbeth to year 8'; 'Romeo and Juliet' is performed to students in year 10.

The Department's Teaching and Learning Ethos

We believe that effective English teaching uses a range of approaches to support the progress of individual students regardless of learning styles and ability. The department regularly reviews and writes new schemes of work to ensure that teaching methods and material are up-to-date. We also share good examples of teaching practice during meetings. As a department, we seek to foster an enjoyment of reading with our Key Stage 3 Ranelagh Reading scheme; Year 7 book club which is held in the library with the librarian; Year 7 sponsored Readathon and Year 8 and 9 Carnegie book shadow. Furthermore, we encourage creativity by providing opportunity for students to publish their work in the School Magazine; enter competitions and to take part in a lunchtime creative writing club. We also up-date our displays regularly to share examples of excellent work as we feel this encourages high standards and raises self-esteem.

Our school is a unifying heartbeat, enabling everyone to feel welcomed and valued as members of our community.

Context

We draw students from over forty primary schools spread over a diverse geographical area. Some of our young people and their families have experienced worship from a range of Anglican traditions, whilst others practise different denominations and faiths, or hold a wide variety of beliefs, values and ways of looking at the world. Our aim is for Ranelagh to offer a unifying heartbeat. Our vision is rooted in the example of Jesus' ministry – we are all one body, part of one church; we are all known and welcome and our unique skills and attributes are valued.

We endeavour for each individual to be included within our supportive community in which those of all circumstances and contexts are able to learn and work together to experience love, hospitality, service, solidarity, forgiveness and the possibility of new beginnings.

We are unrelenting in our support of each individual, in order that we all might have hope and aspiration for the future. Everyone is enabled to develop their unique skills and talents and to aspire for excellence, being empowered to take responsibility for making wise choices. In order for all students to thrive and excel, we aim to foster confidence and delight in learning through a rich diet of scholastic, practical, cultural and spiritual opportunities.

In addition to encouraging intellectual rigour, we nurture a vibrant and creative environment in which members of the school community are able to work together to seek the wisdom, knowledge, truth, understanding and skills which will support all to fulfil Jesus' promise of life in all its fullness.
